

About Ray's Ice Cream

Ray's Ice Cream began in 1958, when it was founded by Raymond and Bernice Stevens as a neighborhood ice cream parlor and soda fountain with a focus on quality products and friendly service. Over the years, their son Dale carried on the family tradition as company president, a title that grandson Tom Stevens now holds. A number of great-grandchildren now work at the family business as well (schoolwork permitting, of course!)

Today, Ray's remains a local favorite for its premium ice cream products and gourmet ice cream desserts, also supplying a number of area retailers and restaurants, and country clubs both here in southeast Michigan and across the country. The family takes great pride in preserving its well-earned reputation, which shows in Ray's Ice Cream consistently being voted among metro Detroit's best.

Please stop by and discover what makes Ray's Ice Cream so special. Sit back, relax, and enjoy our 1950s era parlor and soda fountain with a scoop (or two) of one of our 50+ delicious ice cream flavors. From our family to yours, welcome!

Since 1958, people have been visiting Ray's Ice Cream because of our family tradition of quality products and friendly service. Using only the freshest local ingredients, our 1950s era parlor and soda fountain offers a wide variety of premium ice cream cones, sundaes, malts, shakes, and other confectionary delights, including the ever-popular banana split! We also offer packaged ice cream to take home, sherbets and sorbets, and gourmet ice cream desserts for special occasions.

So stop in and visit us to find out why Ray's Ice Cream has been consistently voted among metro Detroit's best by readers of Hour magazine, the Detroit Free Press and News, Metro Times, Real Detroit, and more. You'll be glad you did!
